The Review Period provides students with individual attention so that progress can be reviewed and targets agreed for future learning. It is, therefore, part of the compulsory school day, but the above chart shows that students are not needed for every session.

When individual interviews are arranged, appointment forms are provided. On other occasions, verbal reminders are given by the Form Tutor. Students are able to use the school's study facilities while awaiting their interviews. The Resource Centre is supervised until 4.00 pm each day, for those wishing to do homework and other tasks at the end of the day.

We hope the year's programme has proved helpful and provided students with the individual attention which benefits their learning.

Yours sincerely

Mrs K Kerridge
Head Teacher
